Hi Susan
We do not require CE here.

Good afternoon, Dolly! I am trying to locate information on how our company can become a provider of CE credits for Home Inspectors in AZ. I was looking through your website, but couldn't find anything on that particular subject?

Cognificent Learning is creating a new resource for Home Inspectors to obtain their continuing education credits via an on-demand platform, showcasing instructors that have their own experience and expertise as home inspectors. These professionals have a true desire to ensure that Home Inspectors are doing their jobs using best practices and "better than" industry standards. We have courses that are ASHI accredited and adding more each month.

Please let me know what the path is to accomplish this goal.

Thank you for your time!

Best regards,

Susan Allard
